

Leadership beyond the stacks

FINDING YOUR UNIQUE LEADERSHIP STYLE:

WHAT'S YOUR COMPASS POINT?

North: Acting. "Let's do it." Likes to act, try things, plunge in.

West: Paying attention to detail. Likes to know the who, what, when, where, and why before acting.

East: Speculating. Likes to look at the big picture and the possibilities before acting.

South: Caring. Likes to know that everyone's feelings have been taken into consideration and that their voices have been heard before acting.

FOR YOUR COMPASS POINT...

What are some of the strengths associated with your personal style?

What might be some perception/communication barriers that are prone to your personal style?

What do you want the other groups to know about your style?

Which other style would you have to work hardest at “playing nicely” with?

CONNECTING TO YOUR STAKEHOLDERS...

How can you use your strengths to overcome the perception/communication barriers of your style?

What are the compass points of some of your critical partners--principal, ELA department chair, lead teachers, volunteer coordinator, library assistant?

How can you shape your leadership efforts to communicate effectively with those critical partners?

BEING STRATEGIC IN YOUR GOALS

Solutions
ahead!
